

[Undated, about 1943-05-05]

Dearest Mother + Jimmy, ~ 1943-05-05

You've been so fine about writing that I'm overwhelmed. The lovely snow scene enclosed in one letter was a joy to behold - and I can just imagine how much it looks like the farm these days.

This is written in hospital, where they are working over me like mad. But don't worry, darlings, because this low fever is

Dearest Mother & Jimmy,

You've been so fine about writing that I'm overwhelmed. The lovely snow scene enclosed in one letter was a joy to behold - and I can just imagine how much it looks like the farm these days.

This is written in hospital, where they are working over me like mad. But don't worry, darlings, because this low fever is a very common thing here, and they have eliminated the dysentery (tut-tut, what a terrible thing!) which is likewise prevalent, as I told you discretely last year.

William is leading the life of a bachelor now, except for his twice daily visits to me. What a dear he is! You will love him, as everyone does.

a very common thing here, and they have eliminated the dysentery (tut-tut, what a terrible thing!) which is likewise prevalent, as I told you discretely last year,

William is leading the life of a bachelor now, except for his twice daily visits to me. What a dear he is! You will love him, as everyone does.

L-291 P1V

3 The new baby born last night is now sleeping peacefully next door while her mother has breakfast. So far she sounds like a very good baby - But considering she's only five or so hours old, it's perhaps too early to judge! I hope to take a small look at her in a few minutes. (L-291 p2r)

The new baby born last night is now sleeping peacefully next door while her mother has breakfast. So far she sounds like a very good baby. But considering she's only five or so hours old, it's perhaps too early to judge! I hope to take a small look at her in a few minutes.

I was glad to hear that the McCully's are doing better. Send them my regards, and best wishes.

My deep love to you two

LPK

4 I was glad to hear that the McCully's are doing better. Send them my regards, and best wishes. My deep love to you two
LPK

(L-291 p2r)

|