 AMERICAN CONSULAR SERVICE

Dear Dad:

I just have time for a short note to tell you that the box arrived safely a week ago Friday, and every thing was in fine shape. The hat was a dandy, fitted perfectly, and won thousands complements from all sides. I almost forgot to take the razor blades out before I threw the box away, but they were discovered in good time. I am sending along the bond interest check to help defray the expense. Thank you very much for your trouble, and give George Pfeffer my best regards when

Sunday Nov. 27, 1938

Dear Dad:

I just have time for a short note to tell you that the box arrived safely a week ago Friday, and everything was in fine shape. The hat was a dandy, fitted perfectly, and won spontaneous complements from all sides. I almost forgot to take the razor blades out before I threw the box away, but they were discovered in good time. I am sending along the bond interest check to help defray the expense. Thank you very much for your trouble, and give George Pfeffer my best regards when you see him next and say I am completely satisfied with the hat. (S-20 P7/4)

The last couple of weeks have been the most hectic I have ever known, and I, as well as most of the rest of the boys, are pretty well frazzled out. We have no idea how many thousands of people have called at the Consulate. Everyday the halls outside are jammed, and they make them line up and have three clerks answering questions and spending about two minutes on each person. If their papers are in order, we type their names on a form statement, L'Heureux signs it, and we shoot them out. We worked all day Saturday, all day Sunday, and Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights. In addition, I worked all day Thursday (Thanksgiving). I don't know whether we are going

In addition, I worked all day Thursday (Thanksgiving). I don't know whether we are going to continue night work or not, but it's getting to be pretty tiring. To make things worse, I've got another cold in my chest which isn't helping matters at all. Today is the first ¹⁵⁻²⁰_{23/4} rest I've had for two solid nerve racking weeks. Needless to say, I haven't been writing many letters - in fact, not any. I'm going to send out a few cards of explanation, and in the meantime I owe practically everybody a letter.

I had a nice Thanksgiving - after work.
I went to Hugh Teller's for dinner. After a couple of cocktails, we had an excellent meal.
Besides Hugh & his wife, who is extraordinarily attractive, there was Dr. Fishburn & his wife, one of our medical advisors, and Cliff Treble.
After dinner we started to drink Scotch & soda, and the six of us drank ~~and~~ a bottle and a half. About 2 o'clock we went to a night Chit and sang and drank sekt (German champagne) until 4 P.M. If we had had the sense to stop with the scotch, everything ^(S-20) would have been fine, but as it was everybody _{P 4/8} felt pretty bad the next morning. And having to work until 10 P.M. didn't help either. But it was a marvelous party at the time.

 Hugh took some darn good pictures, which I will send you if I can get copies.

I am also enclosing a withdrawal slip for Janie to do my Christmas shopping with. There's no use trying to get things over here to ship back. The duty takes most of the joy out of the gift.
 Plus that, what you can get there is generally speaking, both better and cheaper. At our rate of transfer, prices are tremendous here; besides, I never have any time to shop. Hope your cold is better. Love and best regards to all.
